Business Agent's Notice.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The South Sea Islanders on Turton's plantation, Mag, have resumed work.

Winne is that steam roller, and why are our carriage wheels doing its work?

HENRY SMITH has received the appointment of a clerkship in the Interior Office.

Auction sales of Christmas goods have been numerous during the last two weeks.

A MERRY, merry Christmas to all.

There have been reported at the Queen's Hospital 47 successful vaccinations for the week ending December 22d, 1880—34 of these were South Sea Islanders. The German steamer Cassandra arrived from Canton last Monday, bringing a cargo of merchan-dise for Chinese merchants and 640 Chinese laborers.

The trade-winds and dry weather of last week has been succeeded by southerly winds again this week, and for two or three days it has been quite squally and showery. One of the crew of the Zealandia received severe injuries in the leg last Tuesday, while they were lying at the wharf taking in cargo. He is now under treatment at the Queen's Hospital. At a Privy Council held on Thursday the 23d instant, a charter was granted for the incorporation of the Hawaiian Bell Telephone Company and also to the Kahului Railway Company, (Hobron & others). "Banes in the Wood" was played at the Royal Hawaiian Theater by the California Theater Com-pany last Monday night for the third time. Those who saw the play speak highly of the performance. EDWARD KELLY, the notorious Australian bush-ranger, was hanged on the 11th of November. His brother and sister recently visited Sydney to exhibit themselves and some of Kelly's relics, but the police placed a veto on the exhibition.

THE Board of Health have posted up a notice requesting people to avoid large gatherings at present, while there is a possibility of small-pox being in our midst. The presaution is a good one, but it is rather late in the day to speak of it. CAPT. JNO. BROWN, the Agent of the Board of Health, is running out a long jetty from the quarantine establishment, in order to enable boats to come in at any time of tide to land passengers quarantined, or to take cases from that establish ment to the hospital on the reef. The latest advices from San Francisco per Eu-reka are up to November 27th. An item in the Daily Chronicle of that date says: "Of twelve cases of small-pox reported yesterday but eight were verified. Of those seven were sent to the hospital and one was quarantined."

We agree with the Gazette that valuable statistical information in the possession of the Government should be arranged in convenient form and made public. A tabulated statement of information gathered by assessors during the present year would be interesting and instructive both at home and abroad.

Throughout Wednesday there was a fresh southerly breeze, with showers, and on Thursday morning the wind had risen, with heavy rain, and our aneroid stood at .25 below the trade-wind standpoint, and it looked as if we were about to experience an old-fashioned Kona. However, towards the afternoon it cleared up and our Kona seems to be postponed.

CHRISTMAS, the season of gifts, has come again. Now is the time to remember not only the poor, but every good object as well. We learn that one gentleman among us, well-known for his liberality and public spirit, has just sent the Library Association a Christmas present of several valuable books. We shall be glad to see so excellent an example generally followed.

example generally followed.

In a recent issue the Advertiser requested contemporaries in their criticisms to allude to its "beauties" as well as its "blemishes." Last week, in criticising an article on the Hawaiian Islands by Gen. Armstrong in the Southern Workman, it "confines its endeavors" in a two-column editorial to what it deems the blemishes of the article, and has nothing to say of its benaties, although many good points it certainly possesses. Handsome is that handsome does.

gun at Queen street a short time since is now nearly completed to the crossing of King street. The rock used is very hard and will make a good solid bed. We are pleased to note that stone crossings have been laid across the street at the corners of Merchant street. They are laid at intervals like stepping stones. It would probably have been better to have set them end to end in a continuous line across the street for, as they now are, the wheels of heavily loaded drays are liable in the course of time to wear ruts between them.

For Lowish is a list of the officers of Lodge Lo Progres de l'Oceanie, No. 124, A. F. & A. M., to be installed next Monday evening. December 27th: W. M., D. Dayton: S. W., F. J. Higgins, J. W., John A. Spear: Secretary, J. M. Oat, Jr.: Orator, John S. Walker. Those invited to attend the cer-emony are requested to be present before 8 r. THE Art Amateur, published in New York is one of the leading publications of its class, and is fast now on our table, is a fair representative of the Amateur. THE Zealandia arrived from the colonies last Tuesday morning half a day behind time, owing to having encountered head winds most of the way from Auckland. She brought four passengers from Australia for this place, and thirty-one departed from here by her for the coast. She brought dates of papers a few days later than those received from San Francisco by the Eoreka. She left at II o'clock A. M. An unusually large number of people were on the wharf to see her off. The Band was also in attendance as usual and favored the assemblance with substitute of young and in Mn. FURNEAUX, the artist, line returned from Hawaii, not without making good use of his time, and exceptional, if not altogether unique, opportunities. All the sketches, now finished pictures, of the recent eruptions are most realistic, and depict the scene of the outbreak as no word-painting pict the scene of the outbreak as no word-painting could no. One in particular, taken from Kawai-hae, is very remarkable. Taken just after sunset, we have the two great mountains Mauna Loa and Manna Kea, one capped with snowl and the other with fire, but both illuminated with the glare from the great outbreak. Mr. Furnesur has other pictures of the strange scene nearly ready for exhibition, taken under almost every variety of atmospheric condition and see or recently valence. pheric condition, and sun or moon or volcanic illumination. He hopes to be able to open an exhibition of his paintings of Hawsian scenery before the week is out, and we certainly advise every one in the place to go and see them.

Tur concert of the Honolulu Amateur Musical Society was held on Friday evening, 17th instant, each other. at the Lyceum. In the first chorus, "Awake, I Æolian Harp," there seemed to be a little lack of Eclian Harp," there seemed to be a little lack of confidence, as if the practice had been insufficient. The other choruses went very satisfactorily. Of the solos—ladies first—Miss Dowsett's piano piece, "Hungarian Melody," was played with excellent taste and facility; of the vocal solos we give the paim to Miss S. King on her song "In Sevila," which was encored. Of the gentlemen, Mr. Harnden's "The Snow lies White," and Mr. Berger's "Erl King," were admirably rendered. The accompaniments were played by Mrs. Hunden, Mr. Berger, the bandmaster, and Mr. Jones, jr., and were all that could be desired. There were upwards of two hundred listeners, who went away delighted with their entertainment; and a beautiful moonlit night added to the pleasure of their homeward journey. FOLLOWING is the record of Police Court sentences for the past week: R. S. Serimeeur, drunkenness, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and $1 costs. Garrick, and J. D. Elson, drunkenness, failed to appear and bail, $6, was forfeited; Olapua, (k) appear and bail, $5, was forfeited; Olapua, (k) for assault and battery on Chin Lee, on board the Likelike, was fined $5 and $3 75 costs; John Peka, furious driving, fined $5 and $1 20 costs; Lea Pough, found guilty of receiving stolen goods, the property of the Hawaiian Government, and known by defendant to be the same, was fined $50 and $1 20 costs and sentenced to three months imprisonment at hard labor. On another charge for the same offense he was remanded until the 25th inst; Kuuku, druakenness, $5 and $1 costs; Kuuku, charged with threatening the life of one Uilani, charged with threatening the life of one Uilani, was remanded to the 27th intstant: Goo Yok, charged with having more than ten cases of kerosene oil on his premises was tried yesterday morning. This is one of those peculiar cases which sometimes is difficult for the Court to decide. The sometimes is diment for the Court to decide. The law provides that no person shall receive, keep or store in any one place other than the Government storehouse, more than 10 cases of kerosene oil, &c., &c. In Goo Yok's case the kerosene—18 cases—was taken to his place on Thursday while he was absent. It was for distribution to different parties and he had given instructions to have ten cases Entron Satumary Press:—We have seen but a little of the flow during the past week. Could see the end, which is quite bright and seems to have gained at least ten miles since we saw it last. It is thought to be coming this way, and flowing quite slowly—about a mile per day. It is about seventeen miles from Hilo, as near as can be esteultated. The groat attraction here, however, is the King of these beautiful islands. He addressed them in the native and English languages. Made a short address. He had visited Kohala before coming here. He expressed himself pleased to see the health, wealth and prosperity that he had observed. He said that he was pleased to address them in the largest mative church of the Island (Rev. Titus Coan, Pastor). The audience and the King were afterwards addressed by our Representative the Hon. Mr. Wahine. The King has visited the plantation of Mr. Afong at Pepeckee, and to-day went to Was akea to see a plantation, and ride on cars over the cane fields in bloom. PLANTERS' COLUMN. We observe in the Scientific American of November 27th an account and engraving of a very large vacuum pan, which Messrs. R. Deely & Co., of New York City are manufacturing for Mr. Claus Spreckels of San Francisco. The pan will hold 7,000 gallons and yield at every strike about 250 to 200 barrels. of dry sugar. Although 12 feet in diameter, it is constructed in sections of comparatively small plates bolted together, a plan which would be very valuable for some of our plantations to which it is difficult to transport heavy and unwieldy pieces of machinery.

The curved pipe to the condenser, 5 feet in diameter, when bolted together, looks a gigantic affair. We presume it may be said that this great piece of work might not have been undertaken, but for the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty.

A good many of the recent arrivals of Chinese are shipping on the sugar plantations at $10 per month, on a two years engagement, advance $80. Another steamer load is ex-pected in two weeks, and although the Chinese for Mr. Spreckels were too late for the City of Pekin, it is expected that they will come by the succeeding Pacific mail steamer. We have noticed a good many lots going down to the different inter-island steamers and schooners, different inter-island steamers and schooners, and although there were some of the gasga which seemed to consist of fine strong men, others consisted largely of boys or elderly men. It will be well for the planters agents to look out for the class of Chinese they get. The Chinese planters seem to know how to obtain real agricultural laborers, but chance vessels may perhaps only succeed in taking together the rowdy boys about the towns, and their grandfathers.

We are glad to hear that the wire rope tram-We are glad to hear that the wire rope tram-way at Kealia, Kausi, is now reported a suc-cess. Every improved method of getting cane to the mill, where fluming is not practicable, is of great importance to our planters. Nar-row guage rails and locomotives seem also to answer well in many situations, and we have heard it suggested that locomotives on the compressed air system would be particularly suitable amongst our cane fields. The engine that drives the mill might perhaps be made to work the air compressor.

What has become of the Royal Hawaiian Planters' Association? It really looks as if a Planters' Association in Honolulu was not a feasible project. One reason, we doubt not is that the planters are not in Honolulu, but scat-tored about the group, hundreds of miles from At a meeting of the Privy Council held on Thursday the 23d, an ordinance was passed, appointing a limited number of agents, licensed to act as shipping masters, for those immigrants who may arrive here, net specially in the charge of the Board of Immigration, or under contract for service, [Translation.]

Some Enlightenment.

As we said last week, only seven thousand dollars remains of the Appropriation for Immigration, and ninety-five thousand has been expended. What has been the advantage to the country? And what were the benefits to be expected from this sum of money? This is a great question, and one which the economist will earnestly ponder and act upon with all his intelligence, and with a patriotic heart. While we are on this subject we think it well to explain the reasons why this large sum has been appropriated by past sessions, and even by the present session of our Legislature. There are two considerations that influence the mind of man to grant assistance to immigration, and many things are involved in these considerations. The first good reason for expending a large sum of money in bringing in other nationalities to our country is for the purpose of increasing the people of the country, one of the objects for which our country-loving and race-loving king is making great effort. The second is to procure labor to develop the pecuniary resources of the country. These are the chief reasons that move the real aspirations and strengthen the good purpose of the great economist of the Government; these also influence the minds of the King's Ministers to apply every session to the Legislature for aid, and also of the representatives who sit and deliberate as to setting apart a sum of money for this great work. We will not refer to the work of immigration previous to the time of the Wilder Cabinet. From the time that Cabinet went into office till the expirations of two years, over one hundred thousand dollars were spent, and up to the month of Augnat of this year, for the first five months of the present period, nearly sixty thousand dollars have been store in any one place where than the Government store in any cone place where the contemporary than it concess feverence of the content of the contemporary than the contemporary that the contemporary than the contempora
